A Taste of Orange For New Pharmaceutical Product Launch

Current Affairs specializes in taking a concept and painting it red, well orange in this case, meaning pushing the envelope to create larger-than-life productions. And that's just what we did for a new pharmaceutical product that tasted like orange. For the "Orange Lounge" event at Ala Moana Hotel, orange drenched the room – wall to wall and floor to ceiling. With no detail left unattended, the carpet, the faux fur lamps and even the cocktails were orange. Black lounge couches and techno jazz accented the event.

Spellbound in Hawaii

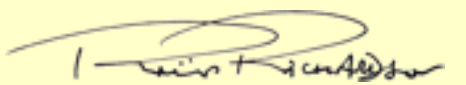

Decor, design and entertainment for hotel-based special events continues to be a sought after specialty of Current Affairs, Hawaii's event innovator.

For an international health care product company's regional conference, Current Affairs' portion for the evening included roaming magicians, an enchanting stage performance and an array of mystical props such as the full moon and shining stars.
